WE NOMINATE

Herbert Windsor Hobler, President of the Nassau Broadcasting Company, one of this area's most Princeton-minded leaders, who has been primarily responsible for the unusual development of a community institution — Radio Station WHWH. This past Saturday, as the professional Philadelphia Eagles and the New York Giants butted heads and matched amateurish performances in the 7th Annual Jaycee Classic in Palmer Memorial Stadium, Princeton's first commercial radio outlet (1350 on the dial) observed its 5th birthday by carrying an excellent play-by-play account of a lackluster contest in recognition of the fact that the Jaycees have now raised more than $1,000,000 for a wide variety of New Jersey service programs.

It was at noon on Saturday, September 7, 1963, four years after Nassau Broadcasting had been organized with eight stockholders, that WHWH "hit the air." Since then, and in an era when new ventures in public communications fail infinitely more often than they succeed, WHWH has gained growing recognition as a community station concentrating on public-service, local, national, world and sports news and covering an 8-county area. Hobler, about-to-be 46 and responsible for the editorial "stands" WHWH takes from time to time, can now point out that his station "by a margin of better than 2-to-1 in every survey undertaken is the most listened-to station in Greater Princeton."

WHWH's daily programming, the concern of a 38-member staff headed by Vice-President and General Manager David A. Moss, reflects Hobler's abiding interest in public affairs and in all facets of Princeton life. Last week, for instance, he noted that the past five years have produced 120,000 Public Service Datebook announcements for some 2,400 different organizations in 106 communities, over 5,000 guest interviews, hundreds of "local live specials" and on-the-spot coverage of all of Princeton University's varsity football and basketball games.

A full-time Princeton resident since he entered the University in the fall of 1940, and the youngest son of a nationally known pioneer in advertising, this native of St. Louis, Mo., interrupted his studies with the Princeton Class of 1941 to serve with distinction in World War II as a B-29 navigator. His "guesstimate" as a Princeton upperclassman that he would enter the "fields of music or advertising after the war" was amply borne out. In the spring of 1965, when he relinquished the post of Vice-President of Videotape Productions of New York to devote full time to the burgeoning activities of Nassau Broadcasting, he had completed two highly successful decades in the "television industry."

As Nassau Broadcasting has expanded with the acquisition of WTOA-FM Trenton, (New Jersey's most powerful radio outlet), the Pearl Background Music Company of Trenton and Xenia Cable TV of Xenia, Ohio, Hobler, a director of the Princeton Savings and Loan Association, has continued active in the "extra-curricular sphere." Long identified with the Princeton United Fund, and remembered for his organization of the United Festivals of Song in the early 1960's, he is an Elder of the First Presbyterian Church, a long-working trustee of the Princeton YMCA and committee vice-chairman for Princeton University's Annual Memorial Service for deceased alumni.

For his major role in shaping a channel of communication which has won national honors as well as commendations from, a score of service groups in Central New Jersey; for demonstrating that success in his chosen area represents a rare combination of "blood, sweat, tears, imagination and dedication;" he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

MILLION-DOLLAR DAY: At half-time ceremonies during Saturday's Giant-Eagle football game in Palmer Stadium, the Jaycees marked their achievement in having raised $1 million for charitable use throughout New Jersey. Dennis O'Shea (right), State Jaycee president, presents a 3x8 foot check symbolic of the funds raised since the series began in 1962 to Gov. Richard J. Hughes. BACK TO DRAWING BOARD For Shopping Center. The Princeton Shopping Center, ready to go out on the town in its new black-top coat, is still under the disapproving parental eye of Princeton Township.

● New site plans for the Bamberger's addition and the new A & P, submitted on Monday, are scarcely different from the old proposals rejected by the Township in May.

● The Shopping Center must appear before the Township Magistrate next Wednesday, September 18, because the Township says the Center violated the zoning ordinance by not laying the new black top when it was supposed to.

Incredulous and only some what impatient, the Township Planning Board listened Monday night as Carl Lindbloom, the board's liaison member with the site plan review board, described what changes the Center architects had made.

The architects, said Mr. Lindbloom, arranged more protection for trees in the parking lot, redesigned the standard Colonial A&P facade to conform to the new, off-white "Princeton Moderne" of the new Bamberger's and modified a curve a bit so traffic flow could be eased.

Bottleneck. The Center plans to build a one-story addition to Bamberger's plus a brand new, free-standing A&P. The supermarket will be built in the northeast quadrangle of the Center.

The chief, alarmed concern of the Township — both the site-plan review board and the Planning Board — is the potential traffic bottleneck between the new A&P and the Bamberger's addition.

Shoppers headed for the supermarket would drive in the Center's northernmost entrance on North Harrison, swing left (north) and then zero toward the A&P on the Center's eastern frontier.

Trucks making deliveries behind the A&P would also use this route, and so would shoppers visiting Bamberger's. Pedestrians walking between the A&P and Bamberger's would have to negotiate the same thoroughfare.

"This would be the worst intersection in town," predicted Mr. Lindbloom.

"The site is just not big enough for all they want to do in it," Mr. Lindbloom added. The Center must, for example, provide parking space for 555 cars.

The Township wants the Center to use the 200 foot-wide strip of land that parallels Terhune. George Warnecke, owner of the Center, doesn't want to use the strip because he says it is part of a separate mortgage agreement. Frank Quinby, Township engineer, believes the strip is part of the Shopping Center proper.

In any case, the Township won't allow exit or entrance on Terhune.

The site-plan committee ("Environmental Design Review Board") is not about to take on the job of designing a site for the Center, or telling the architect what to do. That's not the point of site-plan review.

However, Mr. Lindbloom and members of the Planning Board, did express the wish on Monday night that Bamberger's would build a two-story addition on a smaller plot of ground, rather than a one-story addition on more ground, as planned. That would widen the channel between Bamberger's and the new A&P.

And Furthermore . . . Site-plan members found other things lacking, too, in the new presentation. Mr. Quinby is not happy about drainage: the architect has located a single catch-basin right in front of Bamberger's. ("A nice flood for pedestrians," commented Mr. Lindbloom.)

A protective fence on the east side of the new A&P was not extended to meet the present fence, as the Township had specified in May.

The architects changed the Colonial A&P to a building with two side walls of brick and a front wall of glass, but provided no information about signs that would be erected on either of the two structures. And the lighting plan was omitted.

Site-plan members and the Planning Board were also disturbed because Mr. Warnecke had said that the architect himself would appear at Monday's site-plan committee meeting, and only a single representative showed up.

Township officials, under the impression that Mr. Warnecke was anxious for a decision, summoned the Monday afternoon site-plan meeting hurriedly so that some recommendation could be made at Monday night's regular Planning Board meeting.

So now the Planning Board will invite Mr. Warnecke himself to attend the board's October meeting on Monday, October 14.

DEMOCRATS UNHAPPY With Humphrey. Princeton's "new" Democratic group, the Princeton Community Democratic Organization, declined to endorse Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey and decided to emphasize local issues, after an emotional meeting held last week in the wreckage strewn wake of the national Democratic convention.

The older Democratic group, the Princeton Democratic Association, has not met since the convention. Observers believe that this group will endorse Mr. Humphrey.

Steven Slaby stated his belief that the issue of Vietnam must be pressed and Mrs. Ann Ryan moved that the Community Democrats send a telegram to Vice-President Humphrey announcing the group's refusal to support him unless he altered his position on Vietnam.

John Hughes suggested that the vice-president may change his views, and that for the time being, the organization should neither endorse nor refuse to endorse, but wait and see.

On the other hand, several Democrats present, including Minot C. Morgan Jr., Dr. Richard Lester and Melvin Gottlieb, urged support of Mr. Humphrey as a lesser evil than Richard Nixon.

Thomas B. Hartmann, Democratic candidate for Township Committee, said that Vietnam, the problems of the cities and the polarization of races are the prime issues. "It will get worse" he warned, "unless we establish effective leadership at the grass-roots level."

His running-mate James Floyd, who was not present, later joined Mr. Hartmann in stating that the war is a vital local issue because it has forced a cut back in community projects.

"Peace — Freedom." The following night, about 200 persons gathered in the John Witherspoon School auditorium to discuss forming a Peace-Freedom party in New Jersey with a candidate who could appear on the ballot in November as the "Peace-Freedom Alternative" candidate.

David Frost, defeated in the Democratic senatorial primary two years ago on an anti-Vietnam platform, is the spokesman for the Peace-Freedom group, which has electors on the presidential ballot, but no candidate.

The group has until the September 26 deadline to file a candidate. Those mentioned last Thursday were Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., Dick Gregory, Dr. Benjamin Spock, and William Sloan Coffin.

Mr. Slaby also spoke at this meeting, and announced that he will not support Congressman Frank Thompson in his race for re-election. "A vote for Thompson is a vote for Humphrey," he said. Mr. Slaby is chairman of the Fourth Congressional District Volunteers for McCarthy.

Paul Jacobs, who tried unsuccessfully last year for a seat in the State Assembly as a peace candidate, told the audience that he would not support Thompson either.

Congressman Thompson came out in favor of Senator McCarthy, but said he would support Mr. Humphrey if he were nominated.

RIGHTS COMMISSION?

Mayors to Report. An announcement concerning a possible civil rights commission for Princeton will be made "shortly" said Borough Mayor Henry S. Patterson this week at his press conference.

Mayor Patterson said he had been conferring with Township Mayor Carl C. Schafer on the matter and last met with him to discuss it about two and one-half weeks ago.

THE MAIL MUST GO THRU

"Keep Palmer Square!" Alarmed by the possibility that the U. S. Post Office Department may indeed abandon Princeton's Palmer Square post office, Borough Council unanimously passed a resolution Tuesday night urging the Post Office Department to think it over.

Mayor Henry S. Patterson said he has already written in strong terms to Congressman Frank Thompson protesting the abandonment of the Palmer Square station and asking Mr. Thompson's advice and help in keeping the Palmer Square station operable.

Federal post office officials announced last month that the department planned to acquire a new building on North Harrison near Terhune, and would then abandon the Palmer Square installation.

Council will apply for $16,272 in state money to rebuild Cleveland Lane. Mayor Patterson explained that other Borough Streets — Pine Street, among them — probably need resurfacing even more than Cleveland Lane.

However, Cleveland tops the list of Borough streets that meet state specifications on width and public use. Pine, and streets like it, are too narrow to qualify for state aid.

Mercer County Freeholders have notified the Borough that the Freeholders have designated themselves the Community Action Council for the area. They want to know within 30 days whether the Borough would like to be included. If there is no reply, the Borough would automatically be included. Community Action sponsors such projects as Head Start programs, Day Care Centers and job training with Federal funds.

The Borough does want to be included, Mayor Paterson said, and Councilmen will meet next week with the Community Action director to obtain more information.

A "public sale" will be held September 30 so that Transcontinental Pipeline can legally acquire, for $5,000, the right of way and easement already agreed upon through the Joint Sewer Operation Committee's property in Princeton Township and Montgomery Township.

Martin F. Lombardo asked Council's permission to use the Harrison Street Firehouse parking lot and possibly the Harrison Street playground as parking areas during "home" football games.

Money raised from the rental of these parking spaces would be turned over to the multiple sclerosis drive, Mr. Lombardo said.

"Shocking!" is the way Councilman Alan Carrick characterized the very thought of using the playground as a parking lot.

Mr. Carrick added, "How can we single out one charity for this kind of permission?" and Mayor Patterson asked the same question.

Mr. Lombardo agreed, at Councilman Robert Hendry's request to send a detailed letter for Council consideration.

Robert van de Velde, 22 Western Way, has accepted Mayor Patterson's appointment to the Borough Planning Board, succeeding Duane Lockard who will be away from Princeton for a year.

MAY BUY LAND

From Present Developer. The 72-lot parcel called "North Hill" in the northern part of the Township now owned by Frederick G. Sigler, may be purchased by John G. Nicholas, an attorney from Flushing, N. Y.

Mr. Nicholas appeared Monday night at the Township Planning Board's September meeting. Mr. Sigler, who had been invited by the board to come, did not.

The Sigler property has been plagued by problems and the developer has so far been able to erect only one house. The land lies in the Cherry Valley Ridgeview area, and has drainage difficulties.

Last spring, the Township Planning Board told Mr. Sigler to start building a small pond, and complete it by June 1 or risk the loss of board approval for the rest of his development. The pond has not been built.

Mr. Nicholas told the board he was aware of Mr. Sigler's problems, and the conditions the board had imposed. He said he hoped to complete the financial transaction and start work on the property before winter comes.

For this week's toy selection, I would like to recommend Lectron, made by Raytheon, one of the most fantastic educational toys that I have ever seen. Your child can discover the magic and mystery of electronics in minutes and enjoy himself while doing so. The set contains "see-thru" transistorized blocks that connect magnetically to form working experiments that you can see and hear. You can build a flashlight to a transistor radio. Depending on parental help, suitable for ages 6 to 14. $9.99 to $28.99.

For those who have been away for the summer, stop in and see our new face. We have remodeled and more than doubled the size of our toy department.

We now carry a line of doll carriages, strollers and large wooden doll houses; ride 'em pedal cars and fire engines, tractors with chain drives and tricycles. Also, an expanded line of Corgi and other miniature imported cars; General Electric Show 'N Tell, tape recorders, phonographs, walkie talkies and electric organs. Also, toys by Meccano and BILOtoy and imported microscopes and telescopes. Plus many more new and interesting toys.

ny received approval to run two new lines in the flood plain. One, along Alexander Street, will go under the bed of the canal to serve customers in West Windsor. The other will go along the Harrison Street bridge next to the present gas line, and will provide water for industrial users in Plainsboro.

Norbert Wagner, superintendent of transportation and distribution for Elizabethtown, told the board that the state's board of water policy had approved the lines.

Longridge Builders won their case against the Township in State Supreme Court, but the two parties are still on friendly speaking terms.

The court ruled that the Township Planning Board, under the present ordinance, couldn't compel Longridge to extend Woods Way road outside the Point of Woods Development to connect with Autumn Hill Road.

Lewis Kraft, for Longridge, asked on Monday night whether the Township itself will extend Woods Way to meet Autumn Hill. If it doesn't plan to, than Longridge will have to build a cul-de-sac. But why build a cul-de-sac street if the Township is going to come along anyway and put the street through?

The board decided to ask Township Committee just where Woods Way stands on the Township's list of road priorities.

negotiate with Transco for an easement. He also wants to formalize the property lines separating two existing houses on his plot.

All lots would be substandard in size, and Mr. Kimble will eventually have to go to the Zoning Board, the Planning Board pointed out. The board held the matter over until Mr. Kimble can legally notify the State of his plans, because the State's widening of Route 206 is involved.

Incidentally, Mr. Kimble and his attorney, A. C. Reeves Hicks, do not know what Transco plans to do with its lot, aside from lay a pipeline under it. Mr. Hicks suggested the company may decide to build a house there.

BUS STOP

To Walk or Ride. . . Generally speaking, the streamlining and shortening of school bus routes has meant relatively few problems. . . ."

But as he spoke, Ralph Bennett, who handles bus transportation for the Princeton Regional School District, was counting the names (23) on a parents' petition asking for additional bus stops, reading a letter supporting the parents' position and acknowledging the distance some western section youngsters have to walk to school.

The parents protest that too many children (30 or 40) must wait at the corner of Battle Road and Springdale, an intersection with no sidewalk on one side and only one place to wait.

They are asking for additional bus stops at Ober Road, Newlin Road and the Institute for Advanced Study. Minot C. Morgan Jr., business manager for the Institute, is the man who wrote the letter supporting the parents' position.

Meanwhile, there are about 50 youngsters living west of Bayard Lane and University Place who have to walk to the John Witherspoon School on Walnut Lane (see "Mailbox, page 34). Many of these parents want the school board to pay for busing kindergarten through fifth-grade children. The board did originally plan to bus these young ones, but when the budget went down to defeat, K-5 busing was eliminated.

"It is far for those little ones to walk," agrees Mrs. George Fremon, president of the school board, "we had hoped we could relieve that situation, but we just didn't have the money."

If there isn't enough money for everything, Mrs. Fremon says, the board feels that cuts should be made in "non-education" departments, such as transportation.

"It is possible for citizens or parents to provide transportation themselves," Mrs. Fremon suggests, "but they can't very well provide the education themselves."

Bus routes are under study. Mr. Bennett, John Wolfkiel, associate superintendent of schools, and the police are discussing the safety and traffic factors involved in current bus routes and considering what changes might be possible.

Police to Motorists: Obey School Bus Laws

Now that the schools have reopened, Township Police urge all drivers in the Princeton area to pay strict attention to and observe all school bus traffic laws.

"We've received several complaints already about violators," said Chief James Campbell. "We want to remind people that the yellow light means caution and when the red lights come on — everything stops!" State laws say a driver must not pass a bus while it is loading or unloading children and must remain stopped until the red lights of the bus stop flashing.

On dual highways separated by an island or medial strip, a driver in the opposite lane approaching a school bus that has stopped must reduce his speed to 10 miles per hour and not resume speed until he has passed the bus and any children may have alighted. Violators are liable to a fine of not more than $10 for the first offense and not less than $25 for subsequent offenses.

"These laws will be strictly enforced," said Lt. Fred Porter. "It is the responsibility of school bus operators to report any violators and we have instructed them to give the police the license number of any car which fails to stop."

new bridge and its approaches.

So far, the state has been in touch with two property owners, Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Penick, 1108 Princeton-Kingston Road, and Mrs. A. M. Gilmer, who owns the antique shop on River Road next to the present bridge.

The state informed the Penicks, in a letter written in late August, that highway officials would be around to talk within 90 days after the letter. In June, Transportation Commissioner David Goldberg told the Township Planning Board that he had no money to build the new bridge, and might not even have any in his next budget.

Property-owners along the Princeton-Kingston Road have retained an engineer, Richard Hoisington, to draw up alternative plans for the bridge and its approaches, and they have a meeting with him this week.

"We all agree that a new bridge is needed," Mrs. Penick explains, "but we don't feel the state's present plans are sensible."

Mrs. Penick and her neighbors are afraid the state will build a new bridge and turn the present one over to Princeton Township which will find it too expensive to maintain and eventually decide to remove it.

If the present old bridge is removed, Mrs. Penick says, the old red mill, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pierce, will have to go, too, because the present bridge will be the only access to the mill once the new bridge has been constructed.

Also, residents of the area challenge the state's claim that it has the legal right to take enough land for a 99-foot right of way without compensation. The state bases its claim on the 18th century 99-foot right-of-way concept for a King's Highway. The present right of way is 66 feet.

Residents say they will contest the state's claim through legal channels, if necessary.

PRO GAME REPORT

Traffic, Crowds No Trouble.

"It was heavy but it moved! That's all you can ask for."

So commented Township Chief of Police James Campbell on the traffic generated by Saturday's 46,000 sellout crowd attending the Giants-Eagles football game at Palmer Stadium.

"We were pleased," continued Chief Campbell. "Traffic was probably heavier than ever before, yet it moved without any appreciable tie-ups. Any blockages and complete standstills were of a very short duration," he said, adding, "There was just one slight accident on Route 206.

"It just went along slowly. After all, there are so many cars and just so many roads."

His counterpart in the Borough, Chief Peter J. McCrohan concurred. He attributed the lack of major tie-ups to two reasons.

"One," he said, "a lot came early. Secondly, it got hot in the Stadium and most of the crowd were Giant fans. When they saw their team was hopelessly licked, they didn't stay."

As for the crowd itself, Chief McCrohan reported that it was quieter than previous ones. "There were no problems inside and out."

He added there were a few minor incidents in the Borough away from the stadium, "But nothing to speak of. There were no arrests."

Township police also agreed the crowd was more subdued. "There was less drinking and those who were were drinking quietly," they said.

Lt. Fred Porter said there was one minor skirmish, however, after the game involving the occupants of a bus from Staten Island and one from Jersey City. One bus had its motor running to keep its air conditioning system operating.

The fumes from the bus's motor were seeping into the bus parked behind which had no air conditioning. The occupants of the latter asked the driver to turn off his motor and when he refused they began throwing empty beer cans. One of the bus drivers allegedly took a swing at some one and he was charged with assault and battery. Another man was arrested for malicious mischief.

for the entire series, or $2 each evening.

In other courses, Marion J. Levy Jr., a professor of sociology and international affairs at Princeton University, will present "Modernization and the Structure of Society, analyzing different societies and their variations due to the impact of modernization.

Dr. Levy, a Princeton faculty member since 1947, studied at Harvard and the University of Texas, and has lectured to members of the State Department's Foreign Service in a mid-career training program at Princeton. An expert in Far Eastern civilization, he spent 39 months studying on a Ford Foundation grant and has also done research sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

In another 9 p.m. course, Dr. Rahah Shahbender, a technical staff member at RCA Laboratories, will teach "Fundamentals of Digital Computers," discussing the role of the computer, introductory programming, number systems and hardware. The required text for the course will be "Digital Computer Fundamentals," second edition, by T. C. Bartee, McGraw-Hill.

James Joyce "Ulysses" will be the target of an 8 p.m. course by Albert Sonnenfeld of Princeton University's Romance Language and Literatures Department, who will present a series of analytical lectures on the masterpiece. Texts required will be the Vintage Paperback edition of the work and Harry Blamires's "The Bloomsday Book."

HAGADORN FINED TWICE

In Borough Court. Richard B. Hagadorn, 20, of 20 Vandeventer Avenue, was fined on two separate offenses Monday by Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Hagadorn was fined $25 for allegedly assaulting David Mansue of Grovers Mill June 15 in front of the A & S Luncheonette, 86 Nassau Street, and $25 for allegedly using loud and offensive language against Mansue's older sister, Deborah, 18. He pleaded not guilty to both.

According to the police, Hagadorn was fighting in front of the luncheonette with another youth who had earlier allegedly beaten up his 13-year-old brother, Deborah Mansue, passing by in a car, recognized the other boy as a friend of her's and asked Hagadorn to stop. Hagadorn allegedly called her names.

When he repeated it, Miss Mansue went into the luncheonette and told her brother. He came out and was allegedly assaulted by Hagadorn.

At the hearing, Hagadorn protested before Magistrate Tams that he had been given only two hours notice to appear in court, a fact confirmed by the Borough's violations department. The case had been postponed twice before. Immediately after he was notified by Borough police at 5 p.m., Hagadorn called his lawyer, Trenton attorney Richard Wood, who told him he would be unable to appear in court that night. Hagadorn also told Magistrate Tams that he had been unable to obtain, on such short notice, witnesses who planned to testify in his defense. He added that under the circumstances, his attorney told him the hearing would be postponed.

Magistrate Tams, however, ruled that the case had been delayed long enough and ordered the hearing to proceed.

Hagadorn is scheduled to appear before Magistrate Tams again this month. He was arrested August 7 under the Borough's new anti-loitering ordinance, after he failed to obey an officer's order to "move along" from in front of Pietrinferno's Restaurant, 84 Nassau.

The American Civil Liberties Union, which believes the ordinance is unconstitutional, says it intends to make a test case out of Hagadorn's arrest.

PLACED ON PROBATION

For Assaulting Officer. John H. Emerson, 18, of Hendrickson Drive, Princeton Junction, was placed on one year's probation in Borough Court Monday by Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. for assaulting Pfc. Robert Mucciarelli last week on Nassau Street. A 60-day sentence to the Mercer County Workhouse was suspended by Magistrate Tams.

In addition, Emerson was fined $60 for using loud and abusive language against the same officer. He pleaded not guilty to both offenses.

A companion of Emerson's, who was also involved in the same fracas, Floyd B. Campbell, 18, of 105 Leigh Avenue, pleaded not guilty to using loud and offensive language against Pfc. Timothy Huizing. He was fined $25.

Jerome McGowan, 21, 246 John Street, was also fined $25 on an offensive language charge, which he denied. Police testified that earlier this

Lt. Raymond Stone Receives DSC Medal

Raymond Stone (from a picture taken when he was a student at Princeton High School)

The Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's second highest military honor, was awarded posthumously last month to Army Second Lieutenant Raymond E. Stone, Jr., son of Mrs. Leila G. Stone, 15 Aiken Avenue, and Dr. Stone, of Reno, Nevada.

Lt. Stone, a graduate of St. Paul's School and Princeton High School, died last December as he destroyed an enemy bunker near Katum, South Vietnam, with a hand grenade, while leading an infantry platoon on combat mission.

The citation accompanying the Cross noted his "extraordinary heroism and devotion to duty. His fearless and determined actions in close combat saved the lives of many fellow soldiers, in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service."

Attacked by an enemy force of unknown size, behind fortified bunkers in a wooded area, the 22-year-old officer, who had previously received the Army's Purple Heart and Bronze Star for gallantry in combat, spotted several of his men in an exposed area and carried the wounded through a firing area to safety.

Returning to the combat area, Lt. Stone threw hand grenades and fired on two enemy bunkers, leading a rifle team. Wounded by an enemy rocket round, he continued the assault, moving to within 30 feet of one enemy bunker to destroy it with grenades. He was killed instantly when another enemy position opened fire on him.

Married and the father of an 11-month-old girl, Lt. Stone lived in Reno. He enrolled at the University of Nevada in 1965 and was drafted in May 1966. Commissioned the following April, after Officers Training School, he left for Vietnam to serve with the 25th Infantry Company.

Also surviving are three sisters, Ellen, Nancy and Susan, and a brother, Steven, all of Princeton.

In traffic court, Helen P. Holly, 49, of Northgate Apartments, Cranbury, was fined $80 and had her license revoked for six months for driving while impaired by the influence of alcohol. She pleaded guilty.

Three were fined for careless driving. Gerald L. Grover, 21, Hollow Road, Skillman, paying $20 and Jerry W. Opperman, 19, Forrestal Road, and Fred T. Skipworth, 17, Hollow Road, Skillman, $15 each. Leaving he scene of an accident cost Raymond E. Rudy, 71, 26 Moore Street, $30.

Dah C. Sun, 31, 222-A Harrison Street paid two fines: $15 for failing to wear glasses while driving as required on his license and $12 for a stop sign violation.

Loses License 60 Days. In Township Court last week, Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr. revoked for 60 days the license of Patrick A. Corvino, 17, 131 Jefferson Road. He had pleaded guilty to careless driving.

Mrs. Florence D. Goldsmith, 51, 29 Hilltop Drive, pleaded not guilty to a charge of failing to obey a stop sign. Magistrate Miller doubled her fine to $40 for being abusive to Ptl. Mario Musso after be had issued her the ticket.

EXECUTIVE IS CRITICAL Hit By Propeller. Daniel Dommasch, 47, of Blawenburg, president of Dodco, Inc., 55 State Road, was admitted to Princeton Hospital Monday night with a skull fracture, after he was struck by a propeller at Princeton Airport.

He was admitted to the hospital at 10:15 and underwent surgery immediately, a hospital spokesman said. Later he was removed to the intensive care unit where his condition is still described as critical.

A spokesman at the airport reported that Mr. Dommasch had just landed his single engine plane and was in the process of securing it in the hanger he rents from the airport. "Apparently, he was checking out the propeller," he said, "when the engine accidently started and he got caught."

He added that the engine was still hot and there may have been a little gas left in it and it "kicked through"—even though the engine was probably turned off.

CAR IS TOTAL LOSS Driver Receives Lacerations. A 1966 convertible was adjudged a total loss by Township police after it skidded on Mercer Road near Gallup Road Friday and struck a pole.

The driver was Eva M. Karacsony, 19, of 32 Snowden Lane. She required five sutures to close a cut behind her right ear and three more to close another on the back of her head. She also sustained a contusion of the right leg. She was released after treatment at Princeton Hospital.

Miss Karacsony told police that she had started to pass a car in front of her but it increased its speed and she was unable to do so. She applied her brakes to pull back but her car skidded and struck a pole about 100 feet north of Gallup Road a few minutes after 5 p.m. Police described the roadway as wet in spots.

Towship ptl. Anthony Gaylord made no charges. Miss Karacsony told him she was driving about 50 miles an hour when she started to pass.

Frank A. Milaszewski, 48, of Belle Mead, was ticketed for careless driving by Ptl. Jerry Olfredo alter his car left State Road and struck a pole Sunday at the intersection of Ewing Street.

Mr. Milaszewski told police that another car coming in the opposite direction had swerved into his lane, causing him to veer left. He was not injured in the 12:28 p.m. accident but his car, its motor damaged, had to be towed away.

Earlier in the week in the Borough, David J. Freibert.

Boy Scout's College Trail Starts in Nigeria With Stop-Over in Princeton

SCOUTING IN NIGERIA . . . is different, and Joseph Alaba puts on his Nigerian Boy Scout uniform to show one aspect of the difference. (Another: Scouts who go camping make tents of raffia palms and bamboo.) Joseph has been in Princeton visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bayern, and he brought as a gift the ebony carving Mr. Bayern is holding.

On this lucky Friday the 13th, a Nigerian Boy Scout who belongs to the Yoruba tribe will leave the home of his Princeton patrons, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bayern, to start his freshman year at Bowling Green University in Ohio.

Joseph Alaba is 20 years old, the eldest of seven children. He is highly intelligent, eager to become a surgeon and return to Nigeria to serve his countrymen, quivering with eagerness to start work toward a medical career.

He is also short about $300. He was graduated last December from the Methodist Boys High School in Lagos, Nigeria, and be worked all spring and summer as a lab. assistant for a petroleum company, earning money to supplement the tuition scholarship he holds from Bowling Greee.

But there is a war on in Nigeria and the government has cut sharply the amount of money Nigerians can take out of the country. So Joseph's hard-earned expense money is sitting in Nigeria, not helping him at all.

College officials at Bowling Green are conferring with the State Department and the Nigerian Embassy hoping for a thaw, but meanwhile . . .

A Scout Returns. Joseph is in Princeton because he met Lawrence Bayern back in 1964 when the Boy Scouts held a big Jamboree. A Scout in Nigeria for 12 years —which takes him back to Cub Scout days — Joseph came to the United States for that Jamboree and was assigned to the temporary Troop 47 of the Stony Brook District, which includes Princeton. Mr. Bayern was the Scoutmaster.

"After the Jamboree, we kept in touch with Joseph by mail," Mr. Bayern recalls. "His own country was newly independent, and Joseph was very much interested in the American War of Independence and George Washington and Valley Forge and all, and he decided he'd try to go to college in the United States."

He ranked high in his class at the Methodist high school. He chose Bowling Green because of its pre-med. program and because he'd met a Boy Scout from the town of Bowling Green during the '64 Jamboree.

Mr. Bayern also scouted colleges for him, and served as a sponsoring reference.

Cold in Summer. Joseph arrived in Princeton on September 1, shivering a bit because Princeton in September is considerably cooler than Lagos.

Right away he was outfitted warmly for the Ohio winters by Mr. and Mrs. Irving Klothen, who are friends of the Bayerns.

"Joseph now has more heavy winter clothes than anybody we know!" Mr. Bayern laughs.

Last Friday, Troop 88 of the Princeton Methodist Church, made Joseph an honorary member and presented him with the Troop's necker-chief, and Joseph told them about Scouting in Nigeria.

The son of a professional photographer in Lagos, Joseph himself is something of a pro, winning first prize last year in his age group for a scenic photograph of Lagos, entered in a festival of the arts contest.

He was also captain of his lawn tennis team in high school and a soccer player.

So many developing countries suffer from brain drain: will Joseph really go back to Nigeria after he becomes a surgeon?

"Of course!" and his intensity underscores his response—"there is such great need!"

ACLU OPPOSED

To Hopewell Riot Law. A proposed ordinance in Hopewell Township, which gives the mayor extra-ordinary powers in time of riots, will be strongly opposed by the Mercer County chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union when it comes up for final hearing and a vote Thursday at an 8 p.m. meeting of the Township Committee.

Robert M. Worcester, a Hopewell Township resident and member of the ACLU, said the ordinance would potentially do more harm to the township than it would prevent. The mayor would be empowered to impose a curfew, close businesses and roads and "impose such other rules and regulations as may be deemed necessary."

"It's this kind of police state power the ACLU wants to severely limit," Mr. Worcester said. These powers, he charged, could make the mayor "a virtual dictator."

Mr. Worcester said the ordinance seems to be based on vague and unclear definitions of what constitutes an emergency. In addition, it gives the mayor both the right to declare the emergency and exercise these virtually unlimited powers, he pointed out.

"We are certainly cognizant of the problems of mob action and riot control, but see little evidence of the need of such laws in Hopewell Township presently," Mr. Worcester commented. He indicated that passage of the ordinance would be opposed by the ACLU, other community groups and individual citizens on Thursday.

Also coming up before the committee is an ordinance providing up to $3,000 for a firearms range for use of police and residents of the Township for recreational purposes.

BY
THOMAS B. HARTMANN AND JAMES A. FLOYD
CANDIDATES FOR PRINCETON TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

Vietnam. . ."law and order". . .the alienation of our youth. . .these are the subjects certain to be the most widely discussed in the coming weeks. Our government's response to these interlocking problems greatly affects our lives in Princeton.

The voters of Princeton are entitled to know where we stand.

VIETNAM AND PRINCETON. Our brove men ore dying in o war no one wonts. We ogree with Senator McCorthy and the supporters of the minority plonk ot the Democrotic convention that steps must be token that have o reol chonce of producing movement towords peace. We must turn our greot energies ond resources upon our pressing domestic problems. We have it in our power to deal with hunger, poverty ond unrest. We con turn our disillusioned youth, black ond white, to constructive effort ond rekindle hope in oll of us. New ond promising projects for our communities hove been cut back because of Vietnam. We in Princeton hove o greot stoke in the well-being of our neighbors. Princeton is on islond, but on islond in the reol world. We cannot ignore what hoppens to our neighbors ony more thon we con be indifferent to the fote of our fellow residents in the township.

LAW AND ORDER. We connot hove law and order without social justice. Anti-social behovior must be ottocked ot the source. No amount of suppression or force con long prevail in the obsence of social justice. In Princeton we hove hod hints of the severe "low and order" problem which offlicts our cities in general and some of our neighbors in particulor. We must toke positive steps to eliminote the outbreoks that hove happened here ond prevent them in the future. We must select leoders who ore olert to the problems of oll our citizens ond who con work effectively to cure ond prevent the ills that couse disruption.

ALIENATION OF OUR YOUNG PEOPLE. We must demonstrate that in Princeton our representatives are in touch with the people. Many of our young people simply no longer believe thot the politicol system is responsive to the will of the people. It is up to us to show that Princeton is different. Here we must select leaders who are in touch with the people. Leaders who con build ogain the relationship of trust between the electorate and the elected.

in there since its improvement by the Club into a "vest-pocket" park. Funds for the project were donated by members and friends, with an additional amount received as a civic improvement award from Sears, Roebuck and Co.

All proceeds for the sale of members' flowers, vegetables and other garden items at the French Markets are given to community and conservation projects. The markets are held Friday mornings throughout the fall and spring.

DOING A LITTLE POLITICAL SPADEWORK: Republican candidates for Borough Council Michael Erdman (left) and Foster Jacobs select a small leaf linden tree to be used by the Shade Tree Commission for replanting on a Borough street. The candidates donated the money normally spent on campaign posters to be placed on trees and poles, for the purchase of the tree, in line with their motto: "Replace Trees, Don't Deface Them."

BOROUGH RECEIVES TREE From Republican Candidates. The two Republican candidates for Borough Council, Michael Erdman and Foster Jacobs, have agreed to contribute the money normally spent on campaign posters to the Borough Shade Tree Commission, for a new tree on a borough street.

"We hope more members of the Princeton community will assist the Shade Tree Commission in this program to replace the hundreds of trees killed by drought, disease and old age. The Commission is limited in its work by a lack of available funds in the borough budget, because of higher priority items," the candidates stated.

"We noted that one fund raising campaign had posters on trees for two months or more," Mr. Erdman and Mr. Jacobs continued. "This is a completely unnecessary defacement of the natural beauty of the Borough. If elected, we will work to adopt an ordinance which will limit to the full extent legally possible the defacing of the Borough with posters indiscriminately plastered around town."

FARRINGTON NOMINATED

Mr. Maffei, who declared himself out of the race following criticism of his candidacy, after he was appointed assistant superintendent of Trenton schools made a seconding speech in behalf of the 54-year-old Princeton attorney.

Policy Not Police At Fault.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The issue is not "police" brutality. Any one of us is capable of slugging away with delighted frenzy in such a clash of ignorant armies mashed together amid sirens, shoving and yelling. The adrenalin surges in each of us, with universally human consequences.

The blame is to be laid at the steps of the policy maker, not the police man. If you for bid access to public grounds, private trespass is inevitable, and inevitably violent confrontation is assured.

If you forbid the disruption of traffic in the contemporary exercise of democracy (but permit it for a celebration of past Americans' exercise of democracy), disrespect for constituted authority is irritable and a mobocratic spirit inundates everyone involved . . . including those charged to defend a compromised and capricious exercise of law.

Let no one fault those human beings who act like human beasts when shoved into a beastly, brutalizing situation; rather let the wrath fall on all those decision makers whose pre confrontation humanity was already so brutal as to permit or welcome the clash itself, with all its unavoidable destruction of basic dignities.

ELIOT A. DALEY
Assistant Minister, First Presbyterian Church.

West Windsor Is Planning.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Recent news stories make it clear that the people in the Princeton area are not aware of the planning which has been going forward in the West Windsor Township Board of Education over the past three years to provide for the future educational needs of its district.

In a growing community, it is important to consider the entire system of education and it is important to consider how the plans of one district will best work with the plans of surrounding areas.

In 1965, realizing that it was necessary to concentrate on the needs of the future and fully aware that the sending relationship with Princeton High School would terminate in 1970, the West Windsor Board organized a series of meetings with Plainsboro, Cranbury, and Washington Township, at which representatives of the County and State Departments of Education were present.

As Cranbury and Washington Township have arrangements for their high school students beyond 1970, it became clear the West Windsor and Plainsboro had the most pressing problem. A joint committee with representatives of these two boards was organized, and this group has been actively involved in working out the best plan for future educational needs.

Full and up to date information is required to guide a Board of Education and a community in their decisions. In the Spring of 1967, a contract was awarded to Temple University to provide comprehensive reports on the status of the educational system of West Windsor and Plainsboro and recommendations for the future. These reports have recently been delivered and are currently being examined by a citizens committee. A public meeting for a discussion on the West Windsor report will be scheduled for October.

There is no inaction, and there is agreement that plans must be worked out as soon as possible so the West Windsor and Plainsboro students will no longer have to be enrolled in the Princeton High School.

This planning does take time, and it must be done carefully and thoroughly for we are concerned not only with the immediate future, but also with the long range educational needs of the community.

There will be news releases on the continuing work of all who are engaged in working out this problem. A close, cooperative relationship, with mutual concern for the creation of a strong school program will best serve the interests of all.

W. B. CRAIG
Mr. Craig is president of the West Windsor Township Board of Education.

SELECTED FIRMS SOUGHT

By West Windsor. Seeking to persuade "selected" firms to locate within its borders, West Windsor Township has completed a survey of sites for light industrial, research and offices complexes.

William C. Stuart, chairman of the Township Industrial Development Committee, said the survey resulted in a compilation of all available tracts, large and small, particularly along Hightstown Road. An advertising brochure, printed at a cost of $2,500 for 2,000 copies, will be sent to "selected" firms, Mr. Stuart said.

Mr. Stuart also urged all township residents to be "volunteer ambassadors" in using their personal contacts to influence companies to locate in the Township.

Princeton Theological Seminary has been granted permission by West Windsor to change the names of four streets in the Windsor Apartments area, each honoring a long-time member of the Seminary faculty or administration. Cost of changing the street signs will be borne by the Seminary, not the taxpayers.

The changes involved:

Ninianne Boulevard to Emmons Drive, in honor of Dr. Peter K. Emmons, a Seminary trustee for 40 years until his recent retirement.

Marcia Ann Street to Wheeler Way. The change honors the late Dr. Donald Wheeler, a professor of speech at the Seminary for many years.

Lynwood Drive to Farber Road. The late Dr. Benjamin Farber was secretary of the Seminary's board of trustees.

Dana Street to Loetscher Place. The late Dr. Frederick W. Loetscher was professor of church history at the Seminary for 40 years and his son, Dr. Lefferts Loetscher, is his successor in the position.

TOWN TOPICS goes into every home and place of business in Princeton. By their own figures, no other newspaper does half as well.

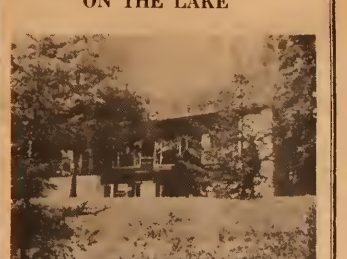
ON THE LAKE



Without doubt this is the most beautiful property we've seen! A long sloping lawn down to the lake, a small bay for a dock, a peninsula with picnic grove to give you an uninterrupted view of trees and shimmering water. You cannot believe that civilization is only a step away.

The house is contemporary in style with cedar siding. Interior design is for easy care with its Douglas fir walls. Living room with fireplace, lovely big summer-winter porch with jalousied window walls, dining area, modern kitchen, and big sewing-laundry room.

The "basement" opens to the back slope and offers a room with fireplace plus a smaller room that would do nicely for a bedroom.

Though small (two bedrooms), there are endless possibilities for additional rooms in this custom-built architect designed house. $65,000

YEAR END CLEARANCE
Extra Savings on Wagons

It carries loads other small cars shouldn't carry.

The SAAB V-4 Station Wagon is not like ordinary small wagons. It may look small on the outside (like the rest), but it's not small on the inside. It's full of room. Elbow room. Leg room. Head room. And loads of room for loads. Over half ton loads plus people. Or 375 pounds of baggage plus more people. Or no loads at all plus even more people in a backward-facing rear seat. (It has front-wheel drive for incredible control and traction on any surface.)
And as an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

SAAB

Ask about our new SAAB Leasing Program. You can drive it like a big wagon.

Theatre Is for Everyone: Got Any Old Furs?

McCarter Shining up to Fall

Fur snippets and washing machines, an exciting new program in children's theatre, and the unbelievable prospect of new paint — NEW PAINT!! — for the lobby and public areas . . . McCarter Theatre is very nearly breathless with autumn.

(By the way, the box office is open for subscriptions to the eight-play repertory season.)

About those fur snippets — McCarter's costume designer, Charles Blackburn, needs your old furs for the sumptuous winter costumes he is designing for "As You Like It." (of course it snowed in the Forest of Arden!)

Fox, rabbit, sheared beaver, maybe a ratty old chinchilla or a sable cape, mink . . . all you have to do is look through the attic, then call McCarter at 921 8709. Mr. Blackburn will send somebody around to pick up your fur.

No offering too large, none too small. You haven't worn that mink since 1935 anyway.

For Children. The new children's program will take ten weeks of live-and-kicking theatre to 30 schools in south Jersey. A new McCarter staff member, Mrs. Betty Liverright, is directing and producing "King to Be," the story of the young King Arthur written by another McCarter staff member, Michael Leech, director of the publicity department.

Eight professional actors will live in Vineland as a "resident company," touring the schools on a punishing five-day week, with days that start at 8 a.m. (What actor ever even heard of 8 a.m.!)

McCarter was asked to prepare this program, which is being financed with Title III money from the Federal education act. Why King Arthur? Because teachers suggested that legend as a way to make history and theatre exciting for the youngsters, ten to 14 years of age, who will be seeing professional theatre for the first time.

Incidentally, "King to Be" will play for Princeton's children at the traditional Thanksgiving vacation performance.

Mrs. Liveright, who comes to McCarter from Philadelphia's Theatre of the Living Arts, has many other exciting events she would like to share with school children, "Theatre games," for example, that release up-tight kids and frequently get through to youngsters the teachers can't reach.

Young and At Work. Within a few days, McCarter will look for its "co-ops," the young students from Antioch College who work in costumes, backstage, cider-vending, publicity and the like.

On September 30, the resident company of professional actors will check in, and the most pressing assignment at McCarter right now, is to find apartments where they can live. Cheap. Close to the theatre.

They'll find everything ready for them. In Mr. Blackburn's costume department, the four sewing machines are oiled and ready to spin. A costume for King Arthur, all regal red and silver, lies on the table next to some fierce silver helmet-like lions.

In Robert Edmunds' set designing shop, the power tools are snorting to be off and away. Here's a caliban mask left over from "The Tempest" awhile back, and a sign painted on the wall reading "Remember: Jesus Was a Carpenter."

And Dry the Same Day: Outside the shop, next to the soft drink vending machine is one of McCarter's proudest 1968 acquisitions: a washing machine and its mate, a dryer.

"The Three Sisters" and "Charley's Aunt," scheduled for this season, are both 19th-century plays with 19th century gentlemen wearing those stiff shirts and collars and you can imagine the drenching shirts and collars get after an actor has been on stage under hot lights for a couple of hours. Into the washing-machine they'll go . . .

Actors tights have been a laundry problem since the days of David Garrick. McCarter old-timers (last season) recall how tights used to be strung up around the theatre in the desperate hope they might dry in time for the next matinée.

Nobody seems to know just what color the new paint in the lobby will be, but it will be on before opening night. Grease paint, maybe?

NEGRO ENSEMBLE COMING

Theo. "America Hurrah." "Song of the Lusitanian Bogey," one of the four plays produced last season by the Negro Ensemble Company in New York, will be given in McCarter Theatre on Friday, October 4, at 8:30 by the actors of the Ensemble Company.

Founded last year with the aid of $134,000 from the Ford Foundation, the Negro Ensemble Company provides an off Broadway focal point for black actors, artists and technicians.

"Song of the Lusitanian Bogey," the company's opening production, was directed by Michael Schultz, who was in the McCarter Theatre repertory company last year.

The following Monday, October 7, McCarter will present "America Hurrah," winner of the Vernon Rice and Outer Critics Circle awards.

"America Hurrah," consists of three one-act plays — "Interview," "Motel" and "TV," all satires on modern American life.

The play, by Jean-Claude van Itallie, was termed "the finest product of the American theatre since 'West Side Story'."

Tickets for both plays are now on sale at the McCarter box-office.

IT'S NEW To Us

CLOTHES OF THE FUTURE From Saturn. Aware of the increasing number of college men and girls who shop together for clothes, a New York merchant said last week that "his-her" boutiques are the stores of the future. We should clue him in. Princeton has Saturn.

Saturn is a youthful venture that grew from "wanting to have a place to buy what WE like." It opened August 29 at 4 Chambers Street, a his-hers boutique with a plush purple rug and a background beat by The Doors and The Yardbirds.

"It makes you wish you were 19 again!" sighed a pretty blonde matron after browsing through the colorful fascinating supply of such suit-your-own personality items as Russian shirts, fur mini skirts, hip length cowhide vests, capes, leather hats and, surprisingly, traditional tweed jackets.

Harry Alonso, the youthful proprietor, challenges her point of view. "Saturn is for anybody who thinks young."

Located next door to Elle (another Alonso family venture), Saturn has three showrooms filled with new generation clothes and accessories. Prices, according to Anne Alonso, Harry's sultry-looking sister, are somewhat lower than those of Elle, with the budget of university students and teenagers well in mind.

In the showroom filled with leather garments, there's a swashbuckling vest in a rich blue cowhide, nail-studded at the shoulder and underarm seams. Cut to hip length, and kept scant in the front to reveal an equally dramatic shirt, it cinches at the waist with a wide, wide buckle. It is priced at $27. Nearby is a casual, well-cut leather coat in brown, knee length and belted, priced at $120.

Leather mini skirts, some in suede, some in cowhide, some with zipper pockets, are often matched with jackets. Colors range from loden green, through maroon and the browns to orange. A soft suede mini-and-jacket in forest green is just waiting for a leggy blonde swinger.

There are broad-brimmed, floppy leather hats, Robin Hood pouches on 3" wide belts, moccasins and, soon to be delivered, avant garde styles in footwear for men and women.

Past the plain, and fancy shirts, the turtlenecked sweaters and tweed coats and suits in the central showroom, down a short flight of stairs to the rear, are the one-of-a-kind racks of handmade Russian and Nehru-collared shirts in satins and velvets gorgeously trimmed at neck and cuff. Particularly eyecatching for the bold-minded is the black velvet with woven red and gold trim, and the purple silk with gold-stamped print. There are a number of loose-fitting, Indian print shirts at $10, all specially made for the boutique.

Next to the TV antenna and chickenwire whimsy set in concrete-filled boots and titled "The Man" by artist Gary Israel of Somerville, you will find several short and saucy skirts of grey rabbitskin, and some "very old" fur coats, one priced at $38.

And since we sometimes move ahead by digging into the past, the romantic, red-lined cape, frogged at the neck, has been included in Saturn's collection. One done in black satin is set at $28. Nearby is a serape from Bogata, woven in black and purple stripes with a luxurious black fringe . . . proving that Saturn is a place for "anybody who thinks young."

By The Yard. "We saved her a half a yard," Mrs. Lucille Carnevale said at The Fabric Shop, 14 Chambers Street, last week, as a customer departed with her arms laden. "She's just learning to sew, and she was so surprised!"

Longtime customers of Mrs. Carnevale and Mrs. Eleanor Nelson, who partner The Fabric Shop, are well aware of their cutting and sewing tips — gracefully-offered suggestions that give each sewing project a sense of shared concern.

The shop now has a full supply of beautiful-weight jerseys ideal for anything soft and flowing. Running 45" wide, the jerseys come in blue and blue-green prints, lightening stripes, bright, psychedelic designs.

Also on hand are the Italian wool double-knits that require no linings, a time saver if ever there was one. Colors include white, brown, grey, kelly and gold in 60 to 64" widths.

ed in singing in these performances and working with the outstanding conductor, Igor Chichagov. Rehearsals, lasting approximately one hour, will be held Saturday afternoons.

PLAYHOUSE

The Secret Life of an American Wife (now playing). George Axelrod, author of "The Seven Year Itch," is at it again, spoofing the American obsession with sex. He has written, produced and directed "The Secret Life of an American Wife," casting Walter Matthau ("The Odd Couple") and Anne Jackson ("The Tiger Makes Out") in the leading roles.

The heroine is a Connecticut housewife who, bored with the routine of suburbia, gives her days over to fantasies and reminiscences of the past. Her favorite is the one in which she becomes a $100 a-night call girl, and thus she eventually acts out in reality.

The first half of the 92-minute film is virtually a monologue as Miss Jackson talks to the audience and to herself. When she goes to the hotel for the fateful rendez-vous with

THE PRODUCERS: That's Zero Mostel in the center, with Dick Shawn and Gene Wilder in a scene from the zany comedy about the theatre world, on view at the Garden this week.

The Movie Star (Matthau), the film turns into a duologue in an extended seduction scene that should have been both shorter and funnier.

There is a good bit of social satire. For instance, permissive parents allow their son to breakfast on frozen pizza and maple syrup at a breakfast table cluttered with a game called "World Domination," which is apparently in perpetual use.

GARDEN

The Producers (starts this Thursday) is a comedy-farce starring Zero Mostel, Dick Shawn and newcomer Gene Wilder.

Mostel is the Broadway producer who has had a series of flops. The drab little bookkeeper, Gene Wilder, suggests that he raise huge sums of money which he can keep since no one expects any returns from a flop. Together they search out what must be the worst script in history, a musical about Hitler. Their plans are thrown by Dick Shawn, who comes on as a genuinely funny "hippie" Hitler.

The farce is funnier in some parts than in others. Lee Meredith is sexy and funny as a non-English speaking secretary to Mostel. Less funny and rather strained is the heavy-handed treatment of the "show's homosexual director," played humorously by Christopher Hewett dressed like a woman, and of his effeminate assistant. It is not a family film.

PRINCE and BRUNSWICK

Therese and Isabelle (now playing) is a sizzler from France which carries the lesbian theme of "The Fox" still further.

The screenplay is based upon the Violette Leduc novel with much of Miss Leduc's flowery and descriptive narrative imagery. It concerns the friendship of two voluptuous young schoolgirls at a French institution which develops into an intense emotional and sexual relationship every intimate detail of which the viewer is permitted to see.

Essy Persson (of "I, A Woman" fame) is the now-adult Therese who revisits the school she attended during her adolescence. The story is told through her narrated thoughts and well-handled flashbacks. Anna Gael appears as Isabelle, who remains a beautiful mystery.

ANNE JACKSON, beautiful and sexy, dreams her way through "The Secret Life of an American Wife," featured at the Playhouse this week. Another title might be "The Secret Life of Mrs. Walter Mitty."

Cyclists Pose Problem.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Unless the management of the Shopping Center decides to enforce its rule against bicycle riding in the mall we can expect accidents. In particular, small children and the elderly could be seriously hurt by cyclists.

Only a full time guard can insure the safety of the Shopping Center's customers.

Put K-5 Busing in Budget.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

As the new school year opens we wish to state publicly the school transportation situation for much of the west end of Princeton and to record our protest of this situation.

The approximately fifty children (school board's count) who live west of Bayard Lane and University Place and east of the area designated for Johnson Park School must walk from one and one-half to one and nine-tenths miles to the John Witherspoon School.

We submit that this is too far for all children who are in kindergarten and first grade to walk, and too far for many who are in grades two through five. The distance itself is prohibitive for many, but the amount of traffic and other hazards involved in traversing the busiest part of the community makes walking risky for the most alert and mature of these children.

The result is that most are transported by parents, and some, whose parents do not always have transportation available, do not always go for that reason.

The Princeton Regional School Board has indicated its agreement with this position, and put into the original budget for the current school year a provision for the busing of children in grades K-5 who live more than one and one-half miles from the school. This involved a very modest outlay of funds in relation to the state mandated costs of transportation, and only a tiny fraction of the total school budget.

Yet when the budget was rejected by the voters, the K-5 busing proposal over one and one-half miles was deemed one of the most expendable items, and was struck from the budget.

At public hearings on the budget which we attended, however, there was little, if any protest of this item, but only some questions for clarification. The objections in the budget hearing were mainly directed at increased administrative costs and what the objectors regarded as educational "frills."

Without attempting to argue the relative merits of these items, it did appear that the Board was unresponsive to the questions raised in the hearings (as the two defeats of the budget showed). Again, we point out that the small transportation item to which we have referred was not even in the budget at its second defeat.

To its credit the Board has taken the transportation issue seriously this year and has made a careful study of the whole problem. This study was released on May 28 and resulted in the elimination of much of the clearly discriminatory busing. However, in failing to designate such streets as Stockton (Bayard Lane to Lovers Lane), Nassau (Bayard Lane to Witherspoon), and Witherspoon (Nassau to Wiggins) as hazardous for young children, we hold that the Board has once again made a discriminatory ruling.

Although all these streets have side walks, they all are so heavily traveled, and in the case of Stockton Street at such speeds (cars and trucks with alarming frequency fail to make the curve at Stockton and Hibben Road, as damage to light poles, shrubbery, and trees clearly shows), that parents rightly fear to allow their children to use them.

This is to say that, in addition to taking the mandated speeds into account the Board should consider the actual speeds in designating hazardous roules, and that they should also consider the inatahility of the pedestrian traffic that children encounter in walking through the business district.

We therefore urge voters to show their support for a reintroduction of a K-5 busing item into the budget for next year, so that the Board does not again mistake silence for opposition.

or shirtwaist dresses, are available in a riot of colors: greens - gold - orange - blacks, gold green-and-red, to name several.

With this reassurance, we refer you to the bonded cottons at the Fabric Shop, great for the simple A-lines that can go through the winter. Also, the bonded orlons made with a linked stripe red-with-blue, grey-with-beige or black-with-white.

On the Floor. Jules Marcus has had the stepladder up and down again at the Tile Discount Center. This is in the Korvette Shopping Center, Princeton Avenue, Trenton.

The stepladder is Mr. Marcus's great standby, because he uses his walls to set up all sorts of imaginative designs with vinyl floor tile, giving home decorators a flying start on the immense possibilities of blending one pile of vinyl squares with another.

Right now, he's hot on dining rooms, in addition to the usual foyer, hall and kitchen treatment with vinyl flooring. He blends plain "wood" vinyl ribbons with what appears to be inlaid black stones set among white stone fragments, achieving a hard-wearing elegant floor. He has an intriguing variety of parquet patterns, ranging from rich old reds to greys.

It is all in the current trend of transplanting world travelers' ideas to available supply. Shimmering beveled hexagons copy the antiques of a French farmhouse. Mosaic from a sun lit Moroccan courtyard steps indoors in vinyl, every square and line of mortar repeated. Planks of "wood" vinyl, wide as any flooring our forefathers chopped from the forest, are lumberlike, authenically fastened with pegs and beveled to seem almost hand-fashioned with an adz.

There's a vinyl called "Travertine," in traditional Tiberian tawniness, that looks for all the world like slabs of fresh-quarried marble. Newest of all are the "stone's throw from nature" vinyls, drawing upon woodland paths, quiet pools and island beaches for inspiration. Next to your glass window wall, it's hard to tell where the terrace ends and the floor begins.

CAGE SCAFFOLD SLIPS

Three Men Injured. Three construction workers were taken to Princeton Hospital last week after they fell while trying to move a scaffold on the dome of Jadwin Gymnasium, Princeton University's long-delayed athletic facility and auditorium.

Listed in fair condition at the time of his entry was Joseph DeAngelis Jr., 22, of Trenton, who was placed in the hospital's intensive care unit. He received internal injuries.

Mr. DeAngelis' 54-year-old father, another, victim, was admitted with a fractured vertebrae. His condition was described as good. Released after treatment for bruises was Carl Charles, 34, of Allentown, Pa.

The three, all employees of a Philadelphia construction company, were taken to the hospital at 12:20 last Wednesday afternoon. They were part of an eight-man team using the scaffold when it slipped, causing them to fall about 20 feet down the outside of the dome.

Jadwin Gaze is located near Washington Road, overlooking Carnegie Lake.

REFERENDUM ASKED

On Sunday Sales. A petition calling for a referendum in November to repeal Mercer County's nine-year-old law banning certain Sunday sales has been filed in the Mercer County clerk's office.

Mercer is one of 12 counties in the state which prohibits the sale of such items as clothing, furniture and appliances on Sunday.

The campaign for the petition has been initiated by the Big C Department Store located in Independence Mall in Hamilton Township. The attorney for the store reported that 15,000 signatures have been obtained even though only 13,476, or 10 percent of the county's registered voters, were needed.

SQUIBB SUIT ATTACKED

By Lawrence Committeeman. Although Lawrence Township was victorious in the suit brought against it over the controversial ordinance paving the way into Lawrence for E. R. Squibb, one township committeeman is unhappy with the suit's instigators for "taking money from the taxpayers pockets."

The North Lawrence Citizen's Association, which fought the Township every step of the way during the hearings on the ordinance and then continued the battle in the court,

WAS CHICAGO COVERAGE SLANTED: Considering the repressive conditions under which they were forced to operate, it would be almost impossible for a reporter not to slant the news. This is one of several points made by Chicago-based student Diane Christensen to this week's question about the fairness of the news media reports concerning Mayor Daley and the Chicago police. (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: Mayor Daley says that news media reports of what happened at the Democratic convention were slanted against him and the Chicago police. Do you agree?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Miss Diane Christensen, 7 Taylor Road, senior, Lake Forest College, Chicago: If I were a reporter and I had to cover the convention under the repressive circumstances that existed, I might slant the news. In April, I was in a march in Chicago and I saw some police brutality first hand. Maybe it's their long hair, the way they dress, but for some reason the kids can infuriate the police very easily. Verbally, they can be very abusive. I'd say, definitely, there was police brutality but I think the demonstrators were definitely abusive too. These two combined made for an explosive situation. You can't say it was all black and all white. The reporters couldn't help slanting the news, since they themselves were being beaten. After all, they have to report what they see. I do think Mayor Daley could have maintained better discipline among his police. It broke down in the field. You just can't take a policeman with a high school education and stick a stick in his hand and say go out there and cope with the situation. These demonstrators are well educated, have sharp tongues and the police are no match for them.

Renato R. Carazzal, 36 Hillside Avenue, electrician, Princeton University: In my opinion, if every police force acted like this five or six years ago, then we wouldn't have the problems we have now. I think they did the right thing. The police should have done this years ago. As far as the news coverage, this is what the people wanted so that's what they published. They could have shown a lot of boy scout stuff if they wanted to but the news media were only showing what the people wanted to see; what would sell.

Mrs. W. L. Taitte, Lawrence Apartments, employee, University Reference System, 32 Nassau: Yes, I think it was but I think the police were extraordinarily out of order and the news media made a point of bringing it out because so many of their own people were injured. The news was slanted so we got the point.

Michael Underwood, 195 Harrison Street, employee, Applied Logic: In a way, I do feel the coverage was inadequate because it only showed police beating people. I can't say the police were right but the demonstrators were obviously heckling them. They're human. It doesn't justify their actions but I still say the coverage gave only one side.

Richard Miner, New Brunswick, teacher: I was watching Huntley-Brinkley most of the time so I don't know about the rest, but, yes, I think the news coverage was accurate. That's what happened. I took a trip to California this summer, Telegraph Hill, and I know a lot of them were thinking of some kind of violent action in Chicago. So that gave Mayor Daley at least a handle for the repressive action that went on in Chicago. The problem is such a deep one; it involves the whole idea of what a police force is supposed to do in a community.

John A. Richards, former Princetonian living in Santa Ana, Calif., civil service employee: Yes, I definitely think they were slanted. I feel they just showed the one side. I honestly believe the police were justified; there were nothing but a bunch of agitators out there. This was just a lot of bad publicity for the public to read. The news media were just trying to sell papers.

Robert Flade, Philadelphia, elevator installer: I think the police should have split a few more heads open. The newsmen were largely to blame for almost all of this problem. If they had kept it out of the papers, who's going to know about it?

Mrs. Dale E. Seborg, 415-A Butler Avenue, housewife: I feel Mayor Daley's over-restrictive policies involving extra protection in Chicago were really responsible for the one-sidedness of the news—if that is the way it may have appeared—and he has no one to blame but himself. Cameras can go only where they are allowed to go.

came under fire from Charles E. Connell Jr. last week, when a $5,856.16 bill for legal services from the Princeton law firm of Jamieson, Walsh, McCardell and Moore came up for payment by the township.

Mr. Connell pointed out that the NCLA represents a small minority fighting the majority of taxpayers. "They have been reaching into my pocket and yours with every legal manuever they pull," Mr. Connell commented. He added that all township residents should back Squibb and offer no help to those who are fighting its move into Lawrence.

The association and Princeton Township, which had also filed suit, lost a ten month legal fight last month to have the ordinance declared invalid. Princeton has since decided not to carry the litigation any further, but the NCLA has until early October to make up its mind.

Question Of The Week

Ipplied Logic: No, I feel the news media coverage in Chicago was very fair and they did a very good job. I wasn't too happy about what happened out there but as far as the news coverage, I feel it was fair.

Dan Hawley, 405-A Butler Avenue, graduate student, physics: I don't think they were, no. For example, in one instance, Walter Croakite simply showed pictures and said he would let them speak for themselves. He didn't attempt to draw any conclusions about it, which showed a woman and her daughter being harrassed by guards with bayonets. No one was getting hit in this particular film clip. My own impression was that it put the National Guard in a very bad light. That was my own opinion, the news media didn't lead me to believe that. I never felt the news media were drawing any conclusions that weren't justified. My conclusions may have been tempered by my own feelings because I was opposed to the treatment given to the demonstrators. I may have been opposed to their blocking traffic but I was much more opposed to what happened. It was completely unjustified.

Mrs. Anne Manouses, 28 Pine Street, housewife: I think Daley was afraid of too much trouble—there were so many demonstrators crowding into Chicago—but I also think there was too much aggravation of the police. They got provoked to the point where they got mad. They didn't have enough training. It was a shame to see innocent people get hurt. I do feel television showed too much of one side of it. They never showed the non-violence, only the violence. They never showed the good side. They didn't show any of the provocation, only the results.

Ronald Everett, Princeton Junction, steamfitter: I say the news media — television, the papers, the whole works — are guilty of building the situation to a higher degree than Daley. Their presentation could be toned down more. I can't wholeheartedly agree with Daley, either, but I think, basically, he had some good points. I think the whole situation has been blown up by both sides but the newspapers and television in particular are trying to make something out of the situation.

became a full professor in 1965 and was made department chairman a year later.

Three new chairmen for Princeton University's English, philosophy and religion departments were appointed early this week, in accordance with Princeton's policy of rotating departmental chairmanships among senior faculty members.

E. Dudley H. Johnson, 19 Linden Lane, a member of the faculty since 1939, will succeed Alan S. Downer as chairman of the English department. A Rhodes Scholar at Princeton in 1934, Dr. Johnson earned a doctorate at Yale and specializes in English literature and ideas of the 18th and 19th centuries.

Philip H. Ashby, 478 Lake Drive, an expert in history of religions whose work has taken him to India and Ceylon, becomes the new head of the religion department, succeeding Dr. Franklin W. Young, the recently named professor of divinity at Duke University's Divinity School. A graduate of the College of the Puget Sound, with a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, Dr. Ashby served for two years as Assistant Dean of the College at Princeton, from 1959 to 1961.

Donald H. Davidson, 182 Prospect Avenue, who joined the Princeton faculty last year after 16 years at Stanford, replaces Stuart N. Hampshire at the top of the philosophy department. A 1939 Harvard graduate, Dr. Davidson is best known for his teaching of theory of knowledge, moral philosophy and the philosophy of language and the mind.

Captain Victor W. E. Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor W. E. Payne, 237 Washington Road, Penns Neck, has completed the Air University academic instructor's course at Maxwell AFB, Ala., a six-week professional training class.

A graduate of Princeton High School, Capt. Payne received a B.A. degree in English from Rutgers University in 1960, and was commissioned there after completion of the AFROTC program. He will teach now in an AFROTC program at Auburn University.

Donald L. A. Sawyer, 60 Hodge Road, a member of the Princeton Day School faculty, is serving as a member of a meteorite recovery network established by a Michigan State University astronomer. The purpose of the network is to create a nationwide network aimed at quick recovery of meteorites, so that scientists may examine them before much of the information they contain is lost.

Airman Apprentice Peter G. Stevens, 18, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. B. Stevens, 40 Bertrand Drive, is serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS America in the Gulf of Tonkin off the coast of North Vietnam. The carrier is on its first combat cruise, providing support for the ship's airplanes flying daily bombing missions against the enemy.

NOT AS INTENDED: Adrian Young (35) looks as if he were the target on a perfectly-thrown pass, but Giant quarterback Fran Tarkenton will tell you ruefully that it wasn't so. After grabbing the ball intended for tight end Aaron Thomas (88), Young ran it back for five yards and lateralled to Harold Wells for three more. The quick touchdown that followed sealed Giants' fate in 21-7 contest here Saturday. (TOWN TOPICS Photo by Bob Matthews)

A GIANT FIZZLE

Eagles Coast to an Upset. The New York Giants, who had read the newspapers, came to Palmer Stadium Saturday and went through the motions. The Philadelphia Eagles, who had also read the papers but didn't believe them, came to Palmer Stadium and went through the Giants.

The resultant 21-to-7 triumph for coach Joe Kuharich's forces who had been portrayed as being lucky to have enough manpower to finish the game, was a monstrous demonstration of how flat a highly-favored team can fall on its face when it trips over its highly-inflated opinion of itself. Before the usual Jaycee capacity crowd of 46,000, the Giants lost their fourth straight to the Eagles here, and in so doing posted the lowest point total in any of the seven games in the series.

Pre-game analysis had indicated that the presumably resurgent Giants, victors over the Super Bowl champion Green Bay Packers earlier this summer, could name the score against the injury-ridden Eagles. When it was announced 48 hours after the game had been listed as a sellout that six of the Eagles' top players would miss the action because of weekend National Guard duty, one sports writer felt that all the tickets might not have been sold had the likelihood of such a romp for the Giants been clearly indicated in advance.

For 30 minutes, the New Yorkers did more or less control the action, but in very desultory fashion. All of their scoring drives save one bogged down short of success. Tucker Frederickson capping an 80-yard march by going over right guard from the seven at 4:35 of the second period. Both teams missed a field goal attempt, the usually reliable Sam Baker of the Eagles failing from no more than 22 yards out.

Giants Were Sluggish. The New Yorkers had outgained the opposition by nearly 4 to 1, but were merely 7 to 0 ahead in points. Their general sluggishness on an afternoon that was perfect from both the spectators' and players' point of view was readily apparent. It was a malady difficult for their thousands of fans to diagnose, because, unlike the Eagles who had played just five days earlier against the Boston Patriots, the Giants had not seen game action since August 25 against St. Louis in the Yale Bowl.

One team, however, had come to play and within a space of a minute and 45 seconds early in the third period, the Eagles took complete charge of the contest. With John Huarte, a Notre Dame graduate who had failed to catch on with both the New York Jets and the Boston Patriots, running the team, the Philadelphians covered 68 yards in just five plays.

Three were passes that took the ball to the Giant six; the TD came on a burst around right end by Huarte when he found his receivers covered in the end zone and no Giant defender of the belief that he would run. He did, scoring with ease.

Fumble Leads to TD. On the first play following the kickoff, rookie back Ron Blye was guilty of his second fumble of the day, a mistake that put the Giants on the short end of the score for good. Defensive back John Mallory scooped up the loose ball on the New York 21 and raced into the end zone, also with ease.

Another Giant mistake midway through the fourth quarter put the game out of reach. A pass by quarterback Fran Tarkenton, who lost his early touch when forced to play come-from-behind ball, was picked off by linebacker Adrian Young on the Giants' 21. Two plays later veteran quarterback King Hill passed to end Gary Ballman and the Eagles had a highly-deserved 21-7 upset all but wrapped up.

The Giants promptly provided the necessary paper and string in which to bag themselves. Gary Lane, the reserve quarterback acquired from the Cleveland Browns a few days earlier, got the New Yorkers all the way to the Philadelphia four. Randy Minniear then carried to the one but fumbled when hit and the victors ran out the final two and a half minutes on the clock without relinquishing the ball.

For the Giants, it was an exercise in futility. They completely outplayed the opposition where it didn't count, rinking up 24 first downs to 8 and 386 yards total offense to 169 for the team that humiliated them.

In addition to the mistakes they made in the form of three fumbles and frequently expensive penalties, Coach Allie Sherman's operatives were guilty of an old New York failing — an ineffectual pass rush. Huarte and Hill had nothing more than a perfectly satisfactory mark of 8 for 15 for 99 yards but the completed aerials set up the first touchdown and accounted for the second, and Giant defenders never once got to them for a loss.

The Giants open in Pittsburgh Sunday and play the Eagles in Philadelphia on September 22. If they can't handle these teams in regular season games, the bright dreams of their fans which stem from the triumph over Green Bay will vanish completely.

PHS FOOTBALL-II

(This is the second of three articles on Princeton High School's football prospects for 1968.)

Line Has Question Marks. "We don't have Butterfoss in there and that could make quite a difference. However, I'm still inclined to think that some of our boys will come around, and barring injuries, we'll do all right. A year's experience means a lot."

In thus summing up his preseason outlook on the prospects of his interior offensive line, Princeton High School coach Dick Wood revealed he is hopeful that another year's growth will turn one or two of his ample candidates into another Tommy Butterfoss. An exceptionally fine tackle who played both ways, Butterfoss was the anchor of the PHS line for the past two years. Positions especially vulnerable this fall, and in need of a player of Butterfoss' ability, are center and weakside guard.

"We lack experience at center," acknowledged Wood. The prime candidate is senior Eric Perkins, who was limited to playwe experience last year. He is somewhat light at 175, but Wood recalled how Karl Stange, last's year's fine center was even lighter at 170 "but he came through." Added Wood, "I only hope Perkins comes through this year; he's worked awfully hard and he has a good attitude. I feel he's ready."

Behind Perkins are juniors Hugh Fitzpatrick and Tom Ford. Ford has good possibilities if he can stay healthy, as he is hampered by weak ankles.

At the guard positions ("Not too strong there") Charles Sweigart has the strongside slot locked up. A senior and one of three returning lettermen on the interior line — the others are tackle Barry Henninger and guard Chris Smith — Sweigart played some offense last fall and a lot of defense.

For the weakside guard the contenders are Chris Smith and Jim Corio and junior Kelvin Hayes. Although Smith received a letter last year it was mainly for his holding the ball on extra point conversions. The charts listed him at 13 and 5-7.

"All he needs is 40 pounds," remarked Wood, somewhat wistfully, "and he'd beat them all. Even at 140 he might still do okay."

As for Corio, Wood commented if Jim gave Smith 35 pounds "they would both be better off." However, Corio has reportedly worked in a feed mill all summer and has trimmed most of the excess suet. Not too much is known about Hayes.

ARCARO TO McCROHAN? One of the passing combinations this year for Princeton High School may be from starting tailback Nick Arcaro (left) to Pete McCrohan, fighting for a starting berth at end. Both may also wind up playing defense as well.

Tackles: Wood can pick and choose from among 10 candidates, five seniors and five juniors. The seniors are Barry Henninger, Guy Diviaio, Gary Coleman, Bill Hartley and Mike Plank. The juniors: Chris Mislow, Joe DeMeglio, Scott Zopolski, Steve Morris and Joe Latham.

"Mislow has the inside right now for running tackle," reporrnted Wood. A former PCD student, Mislow wrestled at 175 last winter and has the strength and speed for the spot.

At outside tackle it will be either veteran Barry Henninger or Guy Diviaio. Probably both will share it.

"Diviaio has a lot of ability," said Wood. "We've got to find a place for him; he's going to play somewhere." He combines good size (6-1, 212) with speed. Henninger's statistics are even more impressive: 6 3, 235.

Defense. Somewhat overshadowed in such triumphs as 50-7, 40-0, 38-0 over Trenton, Steinert and Colonia last year was the defensive play of the Little Tigers, who blanked four opponents in '67.

The most points scored against them was the 21 run up by Perth Amboy and they were engineered by Brian Taylor, a superstar, who has been labeled one of the outstanding high school players in the country. (The Little Tigers will get a second chance against Taylor in their home opener October 12.) The defense is handled by coach Tom Murray.

"In most cases, we attempt to set up an offensive team first and then work on the defense," said Wood. "But we don't want to get one weaker than the other, so we normally do a considerable amount of trading off."

Ends. At the one end will be Ross Bayer. "Definitely," said Wood. Bayer, in playing all last season, teamed with the unyielding Nick Ryan to turn PHS flanks into minus yardage traps for enemy runners.

"As far as where Ryan played, we'll give them all a shot," said Wood. "All" includes Keith Carter, Robert Cramer, Jim Trish, Bill McCloskey, Jeff White and the only junior, Chris Hagadorn.

Eight seniors comprise a list for defensive tackle, headed by Henninger, Sweigart, and Diviaio. Other are Chris Allen, Gary Coleman, Bill Hartley, Chris Schmitt and Joe Latham. "Henninger lacked lateral movement last year, but he's trimmed down. He's faster and he's definitely going to play," said Wood. For Diviaio, it's only a question of where — offense or defense — and the same is true largely for Sweigart.

Middle guards, defensively, are another problem. "It's going to be tough, we lack experience there," said Wood. Listed are junior Chris Mislow, Kelvin Hayes, Joe DeMeglio and Walt Dimitruk and senior Jim Corio.

Mislow is the best of the lot but, as previously mentioned, Wood wants to use him as a running tackle on offense from the single wing, used 90% of the time by PHS. "There are three positions that never play defense," Wood pointed out. "Offensive center, running tackle and quarterback. They are specialists and we can't afford to have them hurt. Only a lack of depth would force us to use them on defense."

Although he has never played before, Dimitruk, in Coach Murray's opinion, has the size and speed to become a starter.

Robert Cooper and John Madden, by virtue of past experience, head a list of candidates for cornerbacks and linebackers which also includes senior Pete McCrohan and juniors John Clausen, Gary Diviaio, Maury Peabody and Craig Singer. Said Wood, "The material is there, it's just depends on what we need on offense."

For the two defensive halfbacks and safetyman, Wood hopes to pick from among Nick Arcaro, Robert Kennedy, Hal Logan, Joe Seldner, Dick Van Zandt, Jim Gilrey, Pete Thompson and Mike Tomlinson. Arcaro is one of the best and has extensive defensive experience, but as the starting tailback, Wood would prefer, if he can, to call on others. Kennedy and Logan also have experience. Tomlinson was brought up toward the end of the season last year and has some defensive experience, too.

Kickers: Aside from his defensive and offensive units,

Wood had one more — a collection of kickers, more evidence that the age of specialization in the sport is filtering down to the high school level.

For kickoff, extra points and field goal attempts, he has two veterans. They are seniors Chris Gartner and John Pesce, both of whom kick in the soccer style introduced by the Gogolak brothers.

Gartner is pre-eminent. Although he failed to connect on any field goal attempts last year, he booted home 22 of 24 PAT's. The one time the outcome hung on his toe, he provided the margin in the Little Tigers' 14-13 win over Notre Dame.

For punting, executed so well last year by Matt Alexander, Wood is trying out Gartner, Robert Cramer, Willie Rosso and Walter Dimitruk. The word on Dimitruk is that he can kick the ball a mile.

(Next Week: Season's Outlook.)

DEFENSE A-BUILDING

Tigers' Front Five Solid. While the secondary on Princeton's defensive platoon is still somewhat unsettled, there is reason to believe that opponents of the Tiger football team will have their problems running against the front five on this unit. A couple of personnel switches appear to have strengthened the defensive line to the point where it will be at least the equal of any in the Ivy League.

It is the new combination of the trio who make up the center of this unit that provides cause for optimism. All three are lettermen, one is 6-3, the others 6-5, and they average over 230.

The two tackles will be senior Tim McCann and junior Bob Hews, while senior Dick Sandler will work between them as the middle guard. Hews had been McCann's replacement a year ago but saw considerable action as a sophomore and has great potential.

McCann had a standout junior year after a slow start on the varsity in 1966 and should excel as a pass rusher. Sandler, a two-year letterman, is possibly the best of the three. He is being switched from tackle to take over for the graduated captain, Lee Hitchner, at middle guard.

Ends Strong, Too. Aligned with this trio will be a pair of juniors, Jim Nixon, 6-0, 195, and Tom Hutchinson, 6-4, 215. A year ago, each had about equal potential, but Nixon alone realized on his, winning a letter and seeing more action than any other defensive end.

Hutchinson injured a knee in the Rutgers opener, sat out much of the season and then underwent an operation. Early indications are that the surgery was successful and that he will round out the front five in highly satisfactory fashion.

His availability there has allowed the switch of another player who had knee surgery from defensive end to the secondary on that platoon, Ron Prusek, a 200-lb. senior, is being groomed for one of the numerous vacancies in the defensive backfield.

A third knee case, junior Arnie Holtberg, has also been showing well in the original linebacker spot for which he was being trained a year ago until an injury at Blairstown. There are numerous question marks in this segment of the Princeton lineup and the early-season passing of Bruce Van Ness of Rutgers and Marty Domres of Columbia will give the relatively inexperienced secondary a quick and definite test.

Meanwhile, on Offense . . . With ten positions on the offensive unit likely to go to the returning regulars who filled them last year, there is strong competition among two players for the remaining spot. That's at shortside guard, and the battle is between junior Mike Guerin and sophomore Steve Saner.

It's a contest the coaches enjoy, because both players are considered capable of doing a solid job. A letterwinner as a sophomore, Guerin is a known quality who will add to his stature if he can beat out Saner, last year's top lineman on the freshman squad.

Saner, at 215 some 25 pounds heavier than Guerin, may have the ability to become the only member of his class to win a starting berth. If he does, he will have beaten out a letterman—always a sign of strength on a college football team.

The Tigers will scrimmage Wilkes College at Blairstown next week, marking the first time in 15 years that the preseason contest has been held at the training site. The date will leave the following Saturday open for various members of the coaching staff to scout Rutgers in its opener with Lafayette at New Brunswick.

KNICKS VS. 76'ERS

In Trenton, October 4. The New York Knickerbockers, including Bill Bradley, will oppose the Philadelphia 76'ers in an exhibition game Friday, October 4, at the Civic Center, Armory Drive in Trenton. Tapoff is 8 p.m.

Tickets for the contest, sponsored by the Junior League of Trenton, are available in Princeton at the University Store, and Hulit's Shoes, 140 Nassau Street. Tickets cost $4 for end section seats and $6 for side section. Checks, payable to the "Jr. League Basketball Account" may be sent to 777 West State Street, Trenton, for return tickets.

During its 47-year history, the Junior League in Trenton has contributed more than $325,000 toward worthwhile civic programs.

AUTUMN RACES BEGIN

For Carnegie Sailors. Late summer breezes on Lake Carnegie barely provided the power for three races Sunday as the Carnegie Sailing Club opened its fall competition. Bill Hilton, with father Tom Hilton as crew, skippered the winning sloop, as Kim Foster finished second in the six boat race.

Dexter Miller, aided by daughter Hope, captained the winning Penquin, in a seven-boat fleet, with Larry Raffaelli second. George Wilson beat his wife Susan to the finish line in the Sunfish competition.

ROBIN KAMMLER WINNER

Of Horse Gymkhana. Robin Kammler, Orchard Road, Skillman, won champion-for-the-day at a horse gymkhana held Sunday at Hasty Acres. The show was sponsored by the Montgomery Rough Riders 4-H Club.

Robin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cory Kammler, scored 46 points on her horse, Sugar Beau. Jane Gaman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. A. Gaman, Mountain View Road, Hopewell, and her horse, Jenny Jerome, placed second with 32 points.

Ted Platz (27 points) was third and Martha Lasley (26) fourth. Lisa Nicolaysen, Pat Calvo and Tom Calvo each had 21 points to tie for fifth.

CAPTAIN AND SPONSOR: Fred Procaccini (left) is captain of the Nassau Market-Wright Store team in the A League, which along with the other leagues, began its fall activity this week at the Princeton Recreation Lanes on Nassau Street. With Fred is Ernie Procaccino, owner of Wright's Hardware, co-sponsor of the team with Val Ochs, owner of the market. Other members of the team include Joe Procaccini, Jerry Perpetua, Kenny Wible and Bob Cifelli. (Staff Photo)

Winners of different events and classes, who failed to finish in the top five included: June Marsh, Kathy Platz, Melody Calvo, Charles Ruhan, Kathy Higgins, and Dorrit Hale.

Other riders winning ribbons were Isabelle Houvig, Roy Taft, Curtis Webster, Suzie Horrigan Kimberly Switzgable, Julie Strickland, Rich Hoisington, Donna Perone, Susan Treadwell, Ronda Adamson, Polly Williams, Kathy Fraser, Holly Grate, Lynn Norz, Debbie Norz, Lee Kupper, Cheryl Kohetitsch, Sally and Judy Snedeker.

BOWLING NOTES

League Resume Play. Four leagues at the Princeton Recreation Lanes on Nassau Street have begun their fall activity.

In the Nassau League, with three new teams—Kingston Wine and Liquor, Walter B. Howe Insurance and Hill's — Nick Sculerati of Tiger Garage rolled an even 600 series on games of 204-168-228. High singles games were a 233 and 221 by Santo Tocco and Flavio Buono, both of Italian-American Sportsmen Club.

Fred Goeke had 220, Jim Shely 211 and Vince Tufano, 210. Doug Renfroe of Howe Insurance had a triplicate 155.

After the first week, the Sportsmen Club, Kingston Wine and Liquor and Howe are bunched in first place with six points each. Tiger Garage, First Aid and Plumbers and Steamfitters Local 380 all have four each.

The summer layoff had no ill effect on members of the Tri-County Firemen's League. Bob Richardson of first-place Lawrenceville rolled a 277 in his third game—106 pins over his average—which will earn for him an award patch from the ABC.

Teammate Mike Duvin got progressively better as he rolled 201-209-246 for 656. Wally Brown of Princeton Junction fashioned a 648 on games of 216-232-200, while Joe Pfister of Rocky Hill had 224-204-207—635.

Had not George Luck fallen off to a 162 in his second game he might have leveled the most pins of all. He rolled 215-162-244 for 621. Ed Hughes had a 211 while Bob Schafer, Stan Tanton, Bill Davall and Bob Ceraso were between 202 and 200.

Lawrenceville is on top in the standings with six points. Bunched in second with four each are Kingston, Mercer No. 3, Rocky Hill and Princeton Junction.

Joe Baldino showed he has lost none of his former skill. Rolling for Princeton Inn in the A League he leveled 646 pins on games of 212-201-233. Jake Bartolino of Steanelli's had 160-225-223—608.

Others: Fred Lehnert, 210-212; Joe Procaccini, 213; Bill Whatley, 208-207; John Cashell, 206; Fred Procaccini, 201-203, Mike Penelli, 204.

Five teams are tied for second place at four-all behind the leader, Ivy Ino, which has six points. They are Princeton Inn, Stefanelli, Princeton Gulf, Maul Electric and Jack Fugill.

Rocky Hill Inn, Princeton Taxi, Claridge and Balestrieri's are all even at six each to tie for first place in the Business Women's League. Bucci and Jefferson Plumbing have four each.

Carole Lisi had a 234 (536), her 234 42 pins higher than the second best single game, a 192 rolled by Jean Donald. Dot Wheeler had 190.

It does things other small cars shouldn't do.

Cornering at high speeds is one of the last things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. So it doesn't push you around like others do. It pulls you around corners, curves and other drivers' mistakes. Is that all SAAB has? Not on your life. Most ordinary cars don't give you, even as options, all the standard SAAB safety features. As an optional extra, our new V-4 engine has a LIFETIME GUARANTEE.

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service . . . we admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adequate . . . it's only GOOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

Do us a service . . . call 921-8500 today so that we may serve you!

STUART HILL . . .

LAWRENCEVILLE . . . on a quiet country road, this lovely one-story home has foyer, very large living-dining room with fireplace, modern kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. Also, for Summer enjoyment and entertaining, there is a huge screened porch. Full basement. Nicely landscaped acre and a half. 2-car attached garage. Price recently reduced. $43,500

NELSON RIDGE . . . in this lovely area, which is still rural in character yet is only a few minutes from the center of Princeton, this long, low white one-story home offers a great deal to people interested in large living areas for entertainment . . . or work. The house has foyer, living room, large dining room, modern kitchen, and a vast family room with wall-to-wall carpeting. Both the den and the screened breezeway have fireplaces. Master bedroom with dressing room and bath. 2 small bedrooms and bath adjoin the den, which could also be a study room for children. Game room in basement. 1½ acres of land. (*) $49,500

SIX BEDROOMS . . . just a year ago, this family with seven children found a century-old farm house on an acre, with great old shade trees, only 5 minutes from the Junction. Completely restored after the manner of Colonial Williamsburg, the house has a spacious center hall with a wide staircase that instantly reveals the fact no expense was ever spared in its construction, or its restoration. To the right is a very large living room with fireplace. To the left, a dining room big enough for twelve, a breakfast room, a modern kitchen with stainless steel sink, electric dishwasher, new Formica counter tops, a walk-in pantry and a modern laundry. At the end of the hall, there's a full bathroom (brand new!) which can be a powder room for guests, or where the children can wash up as soon as they enter the house. Downstairs, the ceilings are high. Upstairs, there are 6 bedrooms and 2 more brand new bathrooms. In the attic three huge cedar closets. Brand new air-conditioners cool both floors. (All equipment, and draperies, included in the sale.) (*) $61,000

NEAR THE LAKE . . .and with central air-conditioning too! On a high lot with many lofty shade trees, this fine home will appeal to people who appreciate perfection. The living room, with its high ceiling, companionable fireplace and the opulent wall-to-wall carpeting, has a balcony leading to 3 bedrooms (one, extra large, for it was planned to be two) and two baths. The dining room is very spacious, and the very modern kitchen has plenty of space for table and chairs. Downstairs: family room with bar, guest (or maid's) room and bath. Two-car attached garage. In the attic, a darkroom and lots of storage space. Outdoors: a large swimming pool in a completely fenced yard, beautifully landscaped. All in all, a wonderful home, in excellent condition. (*) $69,500

SPACIOUS & ELEGANT . . . on a country road, but only ten minutes from Princeton, this fine home was designed by a noted architect to be his own residence. All on one floor, with central air-conditioning, the wonderful floor plan makes this a great house for a large family (5 bedrooms, 3 baths, den & playroom), or an ideal retirement home (3 bedrooms, 2 baths, study & sun room . . . plus living room, bedroom and bath over garage for income or visiting children), or an ingenious house for a young family (3 bedrooms, 2 baths, den & family room) plus a mother-in-law apartment over the garage. The property is almost 1½ acres in area, has a heated Sylvan swimming pool, a special wing for lawnmowers and garden tools, and wall-to-wall carpeting almost everywhere — including kitchen and bathrooms! No expense has been spared to make this large stone and frame house, with natural cedar shingles, a great place to live in and a wonderful home for entertaining. $85,000

(*) Many more fine homes in Princeton and vicinity in every price range. Ample parking space for our clients.
